TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Re: Al Blencoe

A few years ago, I sat on a committee with Al. The purpose of the committee was to research various computer systems for possible purchase.

The committee members were comprised of people from many different County and City offices, which resulted in a great number of needs and 'wish lists'. Not a small undertaking, to say the least.

I was greatly impressed with Al's ability to deal with the various people in a calm, professional, and efficient manner. He always listened to everyone voicing his/her concern. He was the 'voice of reason' in many discussions, some of which got a little heated.

Professionally and personally, Al would be a great asset to any organization.
